BORN TO READ EARLY CHILDHOOD LITERACY

"A big THANK YOU shout out to you and your staff for the continued wonderful programming you provide for us...I made them a little pretend library set up last week cause they were lining all their books up in the living room and giving me a 'storytime.' So cute! They even made themselves name tags so I'd know they were library workers."

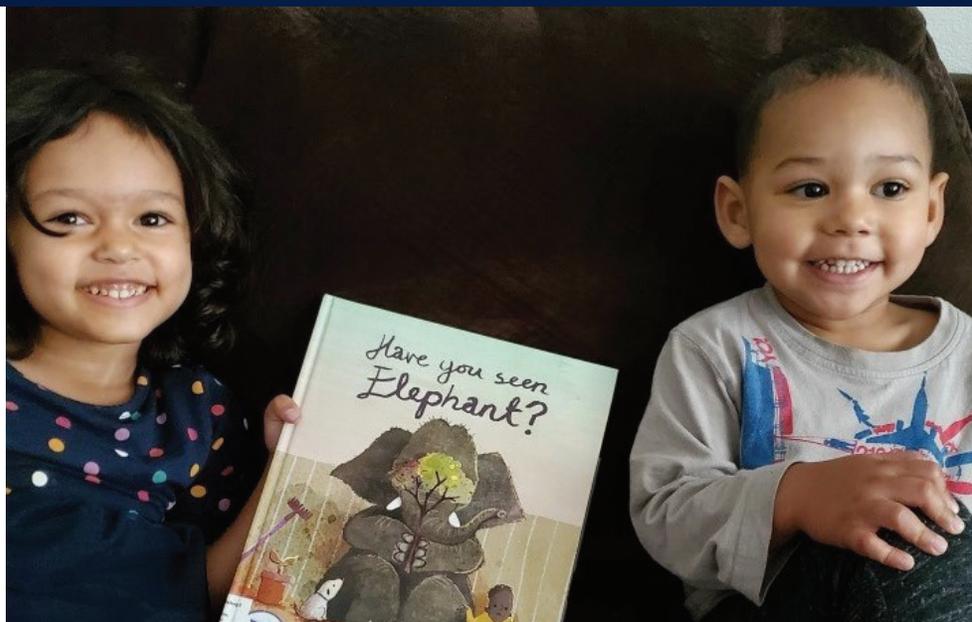

Support for 1,000 Books Before Kindergarten provided by Nancy E. Wight Trust and Dana Brown Charitable Trust.

90,132
served in 2020

2,327

KEEPING ST. LOUIS CONNECTED

DIGITAL ACCESS

The year 2020 highlighted the disparity that exists in our community. St. Louis Public Library increased its efforts to address the digital divide by providing additional WiFi Hotspots and Chromebooks available for free checkout at Library locations across the City.

3 weeks
of free internet for one household

15 devices
can be connected to each
WiFi Hotspot at one time

200

IN MEMORIAM

St. Louis Public Library Foundation would like to recognize those we have lost who have significantly impacted the Library and its mission.

ERICA LEISENRING

Erica was not a native St. Louisan but became one through her wide network of friends and her dedicated work to better her community. The Library was fortunate to be among Erica's interests, and that she understood and valued the importance of its mission: she was active, generous, and thoughtful in her support of the Library for many years. Erica combined warmth and humor with a sort of fierce dedication, intelligence, and plain hard work that made her invaluable. Her legal work on behalf of children and families brought the Library important perspective and connections. Many of us at the Library were grateful for her friendship as well as her work - Erica and Bob were a great help as we began the work of the Foundation. The St. Louis Public Library will benefit from Erica's support and guidance for many years to come.

STEPHEN HIGGINS

Steve was appointed to the Library's governing Board when Mayor Shoemehl recognized that St. Louis badly needed a revitalized public library and that Stephen Higgins was someone who would work to make that happen. His experience as U.S. Attorney and his remarkable background in the Army and as a newspaper reporter made Steve a great asset for the Library, and he worked hard on our behalf. Steve could be tough and demanding, but always with a goal of furthering the Library's work, and always with his help in accomplishing what needed to be done. Steve made the transition to the Library's Foundation Board and brought all of the same energy and enthusiasm to that role. You could always quickly find Steve at Library events because he would be in the center of a crowd of friends, laughing and enjoying his company.

NANCY E. WIGHT

Wight, who passed away in 2018, had spent much of her life volunteering and even spent time performing puppet shows for children in public schools while living in New York City. Her passion for working with children continues beyond her lifetime thanks to a planned gift to St. Louis Public Library Foundation. In 2020, St. Louis Public Library's (SLPL) launched a new program 1,000 Books Before Kindergarten due to the generosity of Nancy E. Wight.
